

FIRST CONGRESS SESSION TOSPEND $1,250,000,000

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The first session of the Sixty-fourth Congress will appropriate for the next fiscal year $1,250,000,000—a record. Here are the estimates:

Executive Civil Bill, $230,000,000; Post Office, $225,000,000; navy, $220,000,000; army, $180,000,000; fortifications, $48,000,000; legislative and executive, $25,000,000; rivers and harbors, $40,000,000; Indiana, $12,000,000; agriculture, $24,000,000; District of Columbia, $12,000,000; pensions, $16,000,000; three deficiency bills already passed, $25,000,000.

Appropriations for the Mississippi flood district, Alaska, nitrate plants, the shipping bill and other minor things make up the balance. The appropriations last year amounted to a little more than $1,000,000,000.

TORTURED BY RHEUMATISM

Sunday School Supt. Tells How "Fruit-a-tives" Relieved

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 1st, 1915.

"I have lived in this city for more than 18 years and am well known. I suffered from rheumatism, especially in my hands. I spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken 'Fruit-a-tives' for 18 months now and am pleased to tell you that I am well. All the enlargement has not left my hands, and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone, and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in eighteen months."

O'GORMAN'S TOGA SOUGHT BY GLYNN AND UTERMAYER

New York Lawyer, McAdoo's
Close Friend, Stands Well
With President Wilson.

GOV. GLYNN'S CHANCE.

Among Republicans Only
William M. Calder Is Openly
Seeking the Nomination.

Senator James A. O'Gorman's announcement that he will not be a candidate for re-election has focused political attention for the moment on the United States Senatorship. His term expires on March 4, 1917, but his successor will be chosen through the medium of primary nomination and popular election next autumn, instead of by the Legislature, as was the system when he was elected six years ago.

Two reasons were advanced today for Senator O'Gorman's retirement. One was the need of looking after his private business. The other was the political predicament in which his independent course has entangled him. He is not in the best of standing either with Tammany, which elected him, or with the Wilson Administration and the anti-Tammany elements. By politicians and patronage hunters he has been relegated to the rear rank. Tammany's practical experience with O'Gorman and McCall is considered likely to end the practice of picking Supreme Court Justices for political jobs.

Samuel Utermayer is a candidate for the Democratic nomination. Mr. Utermayer arrived today at Hampton Roads, accompanying Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo as a member of the United States Financial Commission just returning from a visit to South American countries. It has been known in Wall Street for some time that the Secretary and Mr. Utermayer have harmonious views on financial questions and there have been cumulative indications recently of a political alliance existing between the two men.

No close and friendly have been their relations during the past year that Mr. Utermayer is credited with the backing of President Wilson and his son-in-law, McAdoo, in event of entry into a political contest. The lawyer was named one of the de-

WATCHED AS STRANGLER OF LONG MISSING BOY

Philadelphia Police Expect to Arrest
Man as Slayer of Lad Whose Body Was Found in Field.

PHILADELPHIA, May 4.—With an autopsy scheduled to be performed today on the body of eight-year-old Richard Meekins, discovered in a clump of weeds in a field less than a mile from his home, from which he disappeared five months ago, detectives were endeavoring to ascertain how he died. Capt. of Detectives Tate said that the discovery of the boy's body adds to rather than helps clear up the mystery.

All sorts of theories have been advanced by detectives, chief among them that the child was strangled after he was kidnapped while playing in the back yard of his home. Another suggests that the boy wandered to the field where his body was found and died from exhaustion.

Belief by many that the boy was murdered was supported by the finding of a tattered piece of cloth knotted about the lad's neck, indicating that he had been strangled. Another fact strengthening this belief is that the corpse, a mere skeleton, was found near a point indicated in a diagram sent with a letter to the boy's mother.

The police have a man under watch and expect to arrest him before night.

EMMA GOLDMAN ENDS HER JAIL TERM TO-DAY
Freed After Two Weeks in Prison for Preaching Birth Control, She Will Be Met by Committee.

Emma Goldman will be freed today from the Queens County jail, where she has been a guest of the county for two weeks for preaching birth control.

Reappearing in the outer world, she will be met by a committee, including Leonard Abbott, President of the Free Speech League; Walter Merchant, Secretary of the Birth Control Committee, and others of her friends. Then she will go home and take a bath. It is declared on the authority of Dr. Ben Heitman, one of her intimates.

Miss Goldman has lost some weight, but none of her fire, Dr. Heitman added. She will go to her office after the bath and meet some of her friends who are interested in her jubilee at Carnegie Hall to-morrow night. She has declared she will continue to preach birth control, but it is not believed she will do it in the same old way.

kitchen of her home, No. 574 East One Hundred and Forty-first Street. Mrs. Schneider was a sufferer from chronic melancholia. Since the death of her husband and three sons about three years ago she has lived alone in one of three apartment houses she owned, brooding over her loneliness. Collecting the rents from her tenants last night, she talked to them desolately.

"TIZ"—A JOY TO SORE, TIRED FEET
Use "Tiz" for aching, burning, puffed-up feet and corns or callouses.

Good-bye, sore feet, burning feet, swollen feet, tender feet, tired feet. Good-bye, corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your face in agony. "Tiz" is magical, acts right off. "Tiz" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" and wear smaller shoes. "Tiz" and forget your foot misery. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" now at any drugstore or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.—Advt.

A New Store Within an Old Store

New Down-Stairs Store
IN WANAMAKER'S NEW YORK

Opening Saturday, May 6th, 1916

First Epoch

In 1825 A. T. Stewart, greatest merchant of his day, opened his first store in New York City, at 283 Broadway. In 1826 he moved to 262 Broadway, and not long afterwards to 257 Broadway. In 1848 he built his marble store on Broadway at Chambers Street.

Second Epoch

In 1862 A. T. Stewart erected at a cost of two and a half million dollars the six-story iron building with two basements, on "upper Broadway," extending from Broadway to Fourth Avenue and from Ninth to Tenth Street, which, together with his store on lower Broadway, then given over to his wholesale business, were described by the "New York Tribune" of contemporary time as "the proudest monuments of commercial enterprise in the country."

Third Epoch

In November, 1896, the building and stocks of merchandise in the upper Broadway store at Ninth Street were taken over by the present owner and the sign went up on the building:

JOHN WANAMAKER
Formerly
A. T. STEWART & CO.

Fourth Epoch

In 1906 a new sixteen-story fireproof building, more than twice as large, was added to the old Stewart Store, connected with underground and overhead passageways, and the enlarged plant is now the home of the largest retail business in New York City.

Fifth Epoch

Now, with the clearance of the lower floor under the New Building, by the removal of Housewares to an upper Gallery, the way is open to carry out the original plan. We shall, therefore, open

Part of the original plan of specialization, only then partially carried out, called for a Down-Stairs Store that would be devoted to dependable merchandise of quality and fashion, but at lesser prices than in the upstairs stores.

Only one floor—underneath the Old Building—being available, this Down-Stairs Store was built into partial operation there.
